"HAPPY" MEMORIAL DAY! 05/28/07

Memorial Day began as "Decoration Day" before it had an official name or birthplace when Ladies of the South began decorating the graves of fallen Civil War soldiers. A hymn published in 1867 entitled ("Kneel Where Our Loves are Sleeping" by Nella L. Sweet, carried the dedication "To The Ladies of the South who are Decorating the Graves of the Confederate Dead" seems to fortify that conclusion.

It has always been curious to me that in this great country where we are free to say out loud "almost anything", the voices of decent seem louder than the voices of support and yet, the intensity with which many stand behind our troops and remember our dead seems to grow stronger. The "silent majority" is a formidable factor, it simply doesn't seem to speak very loudly. Today, as you enjoy your family, and maybe some much needed time off, remember that the freedoms we share are only the result of the strength of those who struggled so hard for it. Many of those went on to a greater reward and traded their lives so that we might have the ability to voice our opinion—for good or ill. My opinion is that we should take the time to honor the dead today in some fashion and say a prayer of thanksgiving to God for giving us such brave defenders. There is plenty of time to fit in some chips and hotdogs. D
