WHAT'S HAPPENING at NORMI?

AIAQC—Best Training School, LLC has been approved as a training provider for the America Indoor Air Quality Council, the certifying agency for IAQA. What does that mean to you? We will soon be offering training that meet the criteria for certification with AIAQC and you may, in some cases, get dual certifications. More credibility for YOU in the marketplace!

State of Maryland—Our fall schedule will soon include new AIAQC trainings to meet the State of Maryland Mold Licensing Law going into affect on 10/01/08. If you work in that state, you will NEED to be trained with these new modules to work as a CMI or CMR. Stay tuned.

CFS is coming—The NORMI Certified Formaldehyde Screener online and self-study course will be announced next week, Tuesday, 07/15/08 and will be ready for you to take. The class is the first of its kind and will provide you with some incredible screening tools that will allow you to screen ON-THE-SPOT and for a cost of less that $20 per sample (1/3rd of the normal lab fees). You will want to add these credentials to your certifications.

CAP—The Community Awareness Program is taking on a new look, new feel, and new certifications. We WANT you to market your self and you will soon see new trainings for FRAP (First Responders), Realtors (Real Estate Brokers are ready!), AIA (Architects want this too!) YOU get the contact, NORMI arranges the class! How easy is that? Stay tuned and connected...

“It’s Independence Day!”

This day means different things to different people. For many, this day merely represents a day off of work, or a day on the beach, or a day to party and watch fireworks. How many of us consider the fragility of the freedom that allows us to have a day off, eat whatever we want when we want it, or go to a clean, safe beach with our family? We take so much for granted!
