EcoPower 4 101 Residential Product

With electrical costs skyrocketing and overall power quality diminishing, there has never been a better time for the EcoTrust line of products. By protecting costly electrical equipment, reducing disruptive noise and harmonics, and improving electrical efficiency, EcoTrust Energy products provide unsurpassed value in the marketplace.

This training program addresses the need for this product, the technology that supports it, sales resources, and the marketing strategy with features and benefits that should be used when selling this product into the residential marketplace.

This training consists of six separate modules which can be completed at the student's own pace. Over 25 supporting handouts and links are included with the training and this training can be taken by both marketing professionals as well as electrical professionals.

EcoPower 4 101 Training is only $59.00 at www.BestTrainingSchool.com
