Each February (actually March 1) all CERTIFICATIONS EXPIRE. What this means to you is significant. When a potential client goes to www.NORMIPro.com to check the status of your training, AND THEY DO, they look for your training level and your ACTIVE status. If you are INactive and you have NOT recertified, you will have no certifications listed beside your name and not appear on the site.

(Go to <http://www.normipro.com/verifycert.php> and check your status now so you can see what your client sees) Getting RE-CERTIFIED could mean the difference between getting the job and not, remaining licensed and not, being profitable or not. Clients want to use the best trained, most connected. Don't you?
